

Public Floor Plan information

The plans are for reference only and the finished product may be different. This includes the placement of windows/doors, room size, exterior finish, or orientation on the lot etc.,

The builder will not make changes based off the public floor plans to the finished product.